

able to verify the payment of postage. Together with other components of the postage meter machine, the consumables employed must therefore be approved by the postal authorities.--